Roberts Gets Nothing for Great Effort

By GORDON BEARD
Associated Press Sports Writer
BALTIMORE (AP)—Robin Roberts added another fantastic chapter to an already fabulous baseball career Sunday.

But all the veteran Baltimore Oriole right-hander got in return for his efforts was another loss on his pitching record.

The 36-year-old Roberts allowed only eight hits while hurling 1-3 innings in 89-degree weather, made doubly scorching by a soaking humidity of 72 per cent.

But the inability of his teammates to hit in the clutch gave Kansas City a 3-1 decision in 14 innings. Worse yet, Roberts wasn't in the game when the Athletics pushed across the winning runs on a two-out single by Doc Edwards off reliever Dick Hall. Baltimore Manager Billy Hitchcock took Roberts out after Jerry Lumpe opened the 14th inning with a single and moved to second on a sacrifice.

Prior to that, Roberts had given up only two hits during the last seven innings. After Ken Harrelson doubled to open the 10th, he retired 12 batters in a row.

Meanwhile, the Orioles left 13 runners stranded—seven of them in scoring position. Roberts was impressive as usual but he didn't linger long after the game.

Gettysburg Centennial Is Today

GETTYSBURG BATTLEFIELD, Pa. (AP)—Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania summoned Americans today to dedicate themselves to the task of "driving prejudice out of the human heart."

The governor, considered among possibilities for the Republican presidential nomination next year, made the welcoming speech on this first day of the 100th anniversary commemoration of the three-day Battle of Gettysburg. The scene was the famous Eternal Light memorial on the battlefield, a structure topped by an ever-burning flame.

He said the paradox of the Civil War is that both sides invoked the same principles.

"The North held, he said, 'that freedom would be destroyed if weakened by sectionalism and rebellion. The South held that it would be equally destroyed if an American lost the right to desert a government in which he no longer believed."

For Americans, the governor said, "freedom is not only the best philosophical system; it is the best economic system as well."

"But most important of all, we know that freedom business is never done."

"In the days ahead, our nation will be sorely pressed to put to use the lessons it has learned at great expense."

"There is the continuing task of molding a government strong enough to fulfill its purpose, but not so strong and centralized that it violates its own reason for existence."

"There is the task of regulating our business system efficiently to guarantee its fruits to all, but not so harshly that we destroy the very system that lays the golden

Cut Out Fat Instead of Raising Tax

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Frank M. Potter, executive secretary and general manager of the Arkansas Automobile Club, said Saturday a good way of getting more money for road building would be to trim the fat out of the Highway Department.

Potter offered the proposal in opposition to a proposal by Highway Commission Chairman Wayne Hampton.

Hampton suggested a one cent per gallon gasoline tax increase.

Potter said the department had, for several years, been in a "crash" road building program, and that in such programs the economic policies generally are not strict.

An independent survey might point out ways in which the department could operate more cheaply, Potter said.

Kennedy in Rome, Will Meet Pope

By FRANK CORMIER

ROME — President Kennedy arrived in Rome today to a sparse reception by Italian standards and promptly went into a conference with Italian leaders in his drive to build stronger unity between the United States and Western Europe.

Kennedy told an airport reception of Italian leaders and Americans that he had come to seek ways for the United States and its allies to maintain their 15-year-old alliance. He was expected to find the Italian officials receptive. Tuesday he will meet Pope Paul VI.

On his drive from the airport the President rode past Rome's ancient splendor. A turnout of only tens of thousands of Romans was a contrast to the throngs who flocked to see the President in Germany and Ireland.

It was a searing hot day, with the temperature in the 90s, and the traditional start of vacation time for Italians. Kennedy's motorcade from the airport was held up 10 minutes by heavy traffic on the road to the sea resort.

Pierre Salinger, White House press secretary, announced that Kennedy would leave Italy for Washington Tuesday night instead of Wednesday morning, ending his European trip about 15 hours earlier than originally planned.

Salinger said the presidential plane would depart from Naples at 7 p.m. Tuesday after Kennedy visited North Atlantic Treaty Organization headquarters.

A spokesman for the Italian President said Segni and Kennedy met alone at first while Leone, Rusk and Foreign Minister Attolico Piccioni conferred in another room.

Segni and Kennedy talked for thirty minutes in the Italian president's private studio.

Then they joined the others, and aides, in an adjoining room for a further exchange of views.

Tuesday the President has his historic meeting with Pope Paul VI.

Kennedy flew here from Milan after spending the night relaxing at a villa beside Lake Como.

At the seaside airport here about 500 Americans cheered the President from the observation platform on the roof of the airport building.

The Italian president told Kennedy they talks would enable them to review "in a spirit of mutual collaboration and with a high sense of responsibility... the grave problems of the hour."

Kennedy in reply said he came to determine how the United States and its allies can maintain "the intimate association, the intimate alliance which has marked our affairs during the

RFK Hits Segregation in Business

By NEIL GILBRIDE

WASHINGTON (AP)—Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy declared today that segregation of privately owned businesses that serve the public is "one of the most embittering forms of racial discrimination," and asked Congress to outlaw it.

Testifying in behalf of a key provision of President Kennedy's civil rights package, the attorney general told the Senate Commerce Committee that such discrimination is an insult and humiliation to millions of American citizens.

Describing what he called "the immoral logic of bigotry," Kennedy said in his prepared statement:

"White people of whatever kind—even prostitutes, narcotics pushers, Communists or bank robbers—are welcome at establishments which will not admit certain of our federal judges, ambassadors and countless members of our armed forces."

Kennedy, generally following the same arguments he presented in testifying for the rights package last week before a House subcommittee, said the administration bill to outlaw segregation in public accommodations would set no legislative precedent and deny no right except "the right to discriminate—so plainly a right to commit wrong."

In the Senate, the public accommodations provision is not only up against stiff opposition from Southerners who have denounced it as an assault on private property rights but it also lacks the support of Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen.

Dirksen has introduced a substitute bill that would rely on persuasion, rather than compulsion, to end discrimination in places catering to the public.

The attorney general said the private property argument "should be rejected as a smoke screen."

"It would be far better if problems like this were handled by the state and local authorities, but in many areas where even so basic a right as voting is still frequently denied to Negroes, there is no hope in the near future that state and local authorities will act to eliminate this kind of discrimination."

New Billing Explains Gas Charge Now

Some Hope customers of Arkansas Louisiana Gas Co., will find their July gas bills either a little higher or lower than usual for this time of year, the company said today.

The explanation is that these bills may cover a longer or shorter period of time than the normal 30-day bills as a result of the company's conversion to an electronic billing system.

The company's new data processing center eventually will receive meter readings from all of Arkla's one half million customers. They will be calculated and forwarded at the rate of 25,000 a day, 20 days a month. To achieve this uniformity, it was necessary to revise some meter reading dates, including those in the Hope District.

The first group of Hope bills calculated by the computers will be mailed about July 5 and will be due July 16. The bill covers gas used between about May 13 and June 25.

The Hope District will be divided into two reading and billing schedules throughout the month. The second group of bills in the Hope District will be mailed about July 14 and will be due July 25.

The new bill will show exactly the number of days covered by the meter reading. A stable reading date will be applied in the future and will assure a customer's due date falling on the same work day each month. There will be no more than three days variance in the meter reading schedule from one month to the next.

With the time saved by the electronic system, bills can be processed and mailed to customers much nearer the actual meter reading dates.

The increasing growth and corresponding complexity of the company's accounting system made the adoption of data processing desirable. The result will be more accurate and through a facility which can be adapted to handle whatever future requirement is demanded.

The electronic center, located in the company's general offices in Shreveport, La., includes the latest computers, machines and equipment available. It is valued at more than $1 million.

The last of the more than 80 distribution districts in the Arkla system will be converted to the processing center by October.

One of the oldest homes in Arkansas has been restored to all the beauty and grace of the antebellum days.

Abraham Block, the builder, was of German descent. After leaving that country, he lived in Virginia for awhile. He then moved to Natchez, Mississippi, where he met and married a Miss Isaac. A nephew living in New Orleans persuaded him that the merchant and trading business was excellent in Louisiana, so Block and his wife left Natchez to make their home in the quaint French Quarters of New Orleans.

While there, his business flourished. He acquired slaves, cash, and many valuable pieces of furniture. Since many persons were migrating to the unknown west, he joined a group of hearty folk and left his home in Louisiana. After arriving in the flourishing town of Washington, Arkansas, he decided he had found his Utopia, so he bought land and a business. The next major project was to build a fine new home.

He started construction on his "salt box" type house in 1828. It was finished in 1832. Since this was before sawmill days, his home is hand grooved. The doors are of the Cross and Bible style. All window panes are of hand blown glass.

The decorative rail, a copy of New Orleans iron railings, on the upstairs balcony, is fashionable.

ed of wood and was built by slave labor.

The high ceiling in the entrance hall has an intricate and colorful design. It is thought to be finger painted — the type of decoration used in the early days in Germany. A ceiling so designed was thought to protect the family from "bad spirits." The colors were derived from the juice of walnut hulls and wild berries.

Every room has a conversational piece. A desk bought in 1821, by Andrew Jackson, and given, as a token of appreciation, to Captain Henry Brachenberg, stands in the entrance hall. A letter telling of the gift was found in one of the secret drawers of the desk.

The parlor is located on the right of the entrance hall. In this room is a satinwood grand piano. Its date of manufacture is not known, but it is said to be one of the first ones made by William Knabe and Company of Baltimore. The huge legs are as large as a small table top.

An original fireplace and mantel are located in this room. A French clock, exquisite bric-a-brac, Meissen and Dresden figurines, imported crystal chandelier, beautiful hand painted pictures, with heavy gold leaf frames, wallpaper of an original reprint of a Williamsburg pattern, heavy silk draperies, and a pier mirror, all combined, lend the air of aristocracy to the house of yesterday. Here, the most interesting article is a bronze fireplace fender which was washed in gold plate. The age of this is unknown, but it is thought to be one of the 1800 vintage.

Recently a slave house was moved further back from the house, and is now used as a storage house. A tin bath tub was discovered under the eaves of the shack. It is the type that was used in New Orleans in the fine homes of the 1800 area. It will be painted and redecorated to resemble the ones used in France during Napoleon's rule.

A modern touch has been added to the house. A bathroom, artistically and colorfully decorated, an air conditioning and heating unit, makes the home comfortable in winter and summer.

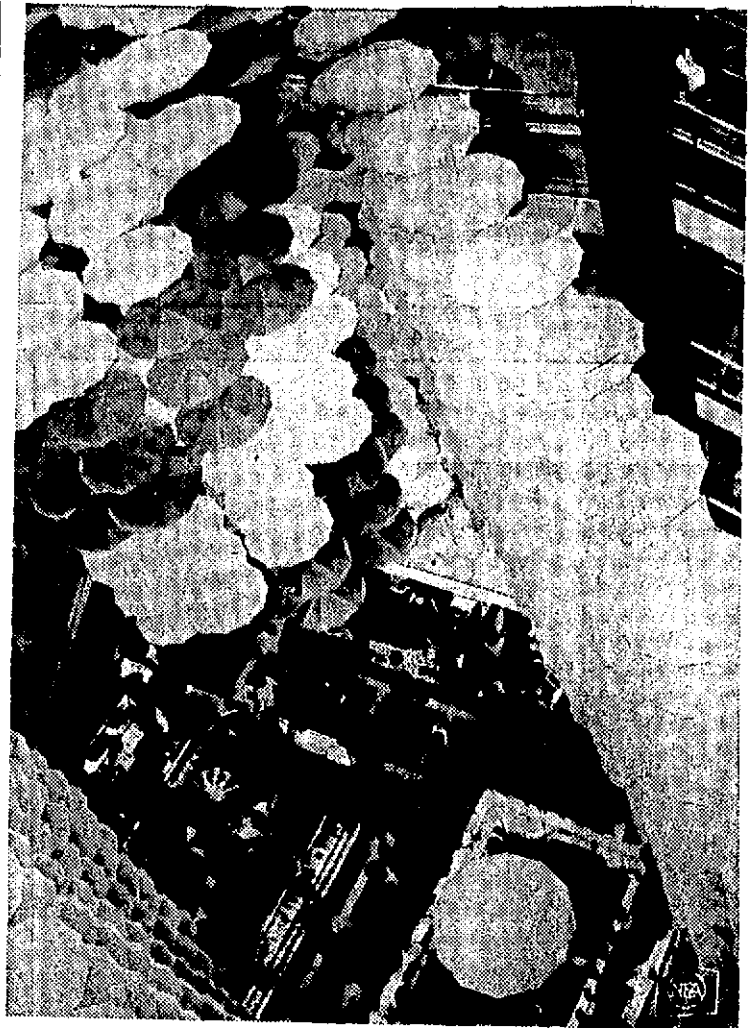

The Arkla gas light has taken the place of the old lantern.

past 15 years."

Italy and the United States, he added, "must assure that their 'association remains as strong in the future as in the past.'"

Tens of thousands of Romans lined parts of Kennedy's route through the Eternal City. Thousands of pasted up posters said "Viva the United States" and "Viva Kennedy."

A few said "Viva Jackie," who originally was to have come with the President. The plans were changed when she became pregnant.

The size of the welcoming crowds was probably reduced considerably by the date, the start of Italy's favorite vacation month.

which was used to light the way of the Arkansas traveler.

The house was owned for nearly half a century by the family of the late T. N. Catts. In 1958, it was donated to Pioneer Washington Restoration Foundation by Mr. and Mrs. E. Catts of Atlanta, Georgia. The Foundation has restored it to its earlier prominence. It has been furnished throughout with period furniture and other pieces by Mrs. Charles A. Haynes.

"There is the task of joining other free men in alliances of strength to protect our freedom, but avoiding the nuclear destruction of the world in the process."

"And, there is the task of driving prejudice out of the human heart at least as rapidly as we are learning to drive man into outer space."

"One hundred years after Gettysburg, America still has not completely solved the problems of self-government. But those who fell on this battlefield have not died in vain because our nation today is great enough to keep trying."

Throng from both North and South joined in commemorating the great Civil War battle.

On this day 100 years ago Gen. Robert E. Lee's Confederates drove the hosts of Gen. George Gordon Meade across rolling countryside and through the streets of Gettysburg—only to find the federal troops finally rallying on Cemetery Hill and Ridge.

Three days later Lee, a beaten man nobly asserting, "It was all my fault," ordered a retreat—and the Civil War had reached its turning point.

The highlight of today's commemoration was a solemn afternoon ceremony at the Eternal Light peace memorial overlooking the scene of the first day's clash.

Governors or other representatives of 27 of the 29 states whose men fought and fell here were on hand to lay wreaths at the monument's base and otherwise pay tribute to the dead. Louisiana and Tennessee decided not to send a representation.

Another event on today's program was the dedication by Postmaster General J. Edward Day of a Gettysburg commemorative stamp. Half gray and half blue, the stamp shows a federal and a man from Dixie locked in bayonet combat.

Throughout the three-day observance "Vignettes of History" will be given by amateur theatrical groups clad in reproductions of the dress of a century ago.

For example there will be a playlet each morning at Devil's Den or Sharpshooter's Roost. This was a place of violence and death which was won and lost many times by both sides during the carnage. It is a forbidding place shadowed by Little Round Top.

Another vignette is entitled "Brother Captures Brother." It shows how on July 1, 1863, a detail of the 45th New York Regiment led by Cpl. Rudolph Schwarz captured some Confederate soldiers. One prisoner recognized the corporal as his brother whom he hadn't seen for years. There was a happy but brief reunion.

Nobody in authority could say today how many thousands of visitors have come to this flag-bedecked town — population 8,000 — in whose shops one can buy anything from statuettes of Lee and Meade to Civil War rifles guaranteed to be shoo-table. But the sidewalks are thronged like a big city. Many of the men wear Civil War garb and beards that took long in the growing and many of the women wear long calico skirts and bonnets.

One big traffic jam developed Sunday night as an estimated 8,000 to 10,000 people struggled out to the Gettysburg High School football field where former President Dwight D. Eisenhower was the featured speaker at the annual commemorative exercises of the Gettysburg Fire Department.

The general's voice came through loud and clear as he made an urgent call for sturdy self-reliance and struck out against "paternalistic government."

Education at Fault for Racial War

By G. K. HODENFIELD

AP Education Writer

Detroit (AP)—"The race issue that is convulsing every part of the nation is a striking instance of the failure of higher education," a speaker told delegates to the National Education Association (NEA) convention today.

W. H. Ferry, vice president of the Center for the Study of Democratic Institutions, in Santa Barbara, Calif., said this "may turn out to be our lasting education goof."

"An educational system geared to the preparation of individual careers has left us without the practical wisdom to cope with the collective needs of our times," Ferry said in a prepared speech.

Ferry said that measured against the real needs of the country "the American college is a bad investment. Judged by its output of practical wisdom and independent criticism, the college is a resounding flop."

Muslims Egg Rev. King at Speech Site

NEW YORK (AP)—Eggs splattered against the car of the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr. as he arrived at a Harlem church Sunday night to address a Negro congregation. King was not hit.

The civil rights leader also was hooned by several of the 500 Negroes who waited in front of the Salem Methodist church.

A police detail of 20 was quickly tripped. Officers said about six eggs were thrown by sympathizers of the Black Muslims, an anti-white religious sect which opposes integration.

Inside the church, King told about 2,000 persons: "I can't understand what my colored brothers have against me."

But, he said, the colleges and universities failed to live up to their responsibilities, and now that the cataclysm is upon us "we don't know what to think about it."

Ferry's speech was the highlight of a convention day in which most of the corridor talk was devoted to two thorny issues: racial segregation within the ranks of the NEA, and the use of sanctions as a weapon for teachers trying to secure better salaries and working conditions.

The GASGRILL gives the same flavor to food you get from charcoal... but with less fuss, bother and expense. Charcoal adds no flavor of its own — it brings radiant heat in direct contact with food. So does the Gasgrill, by heating the ceramic briquettes between the flame and food.

The GASGRILL is a permanent installation for your patio or yard. Close the top, and you get perfect "smoke cooking."

The GASGRILL, made of aluminum, provides even heating, too, with reflected heat from top, bottom and sides... No need for constant turning of foods... and no need for a rotisserie.

Thrash-Shields Exchange Vows

In the beautiful sanctuary of the First Baptist Church on Saturday afternoon, June 29, Miss Thelma Thrash and Joseph Leroy Shields were united in marriage. The bride is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin P. Thrash.

Dr. S. A. Whitlow of Little Rock officiated at the double-ring ceremony. Nieces of the bride furnished the music. Mrs.

Lowell McBroom of Skellytown, Texas, sang "Because" and "Whither Thou Goest," accompanied by Miss June McWha of Hot Springs, organist. The traditional wedding marches were used.

Given in marriage by her brother, Willis La Thrash, the bride was gown in Chantilly lace and tulle over slipper satin. The short-sleeved frock had a portrait neckline edged with sequins and seed pearls. Deep points of Chantilly lace detailed the tulle skirt. Her shoulder-length double veil of illusion was attached to a seed pearl tiara, and she wore lace mits. The bride's jewelry was a diamond and pearl necklace and earrings, a gift of the bridegroom. She carried a bouquet of orchids.

Vows were exchanged before an altar decorated with baskets of white stocks. Mrs. Ernest McWha of Hot Springs was her sister's matron of honor. Her dress was pink pima mist with lace insertion and trim. She wore a halo hat of pink peau de soie and net, lace mits, and she carried an orchid bouquet.

Ernest McWha of Hot Springs served as best man. Following the ceremony, the couple left for a short wedding trip. For travel the bride wore a blue dachon and mohair ensemble with blue and white accessories. She pinned an orchid at her shoulder.

Upon their return Mr. and Mrs. Shields will make their home in Hope at 414 East 15th.

Bride-Elect Honored

Miss Sue Ann Smith, bride-elect of John Robert Graves, was the honoree Thursday, June 27 at a morning party given by Mrs. Dick Watkins and Mrs. Vincent Foster in the Foster home.

The future bride was attractively attired in white with chartreuse trim. She was presented a corsage of fleur d'amour and a gift of silver.

Brilliant-hued summer flowers in a brass container centered the serving table. Brass table appointments were used by the hostesses, assisted by Mrs. Cecil Wyatt, in serving the tempting refreshments.

The 15 guests included Mrs. Royce Smith and Miss Dorothy Smith, mother and sister of the guest of honor.

Croxton and Faubus Spar for Governor

By BILL SIMMONS

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—With the next general election about 18 months away, it seems a little early to be campaigning for governor. But, that's what seems to be happening.

Gov. Orval E. Faubus, no stranger to the state's top executive office, and Rep. Hardy Croxton of Benton county apparently are flirting with ideas of running for governor in 1964.

Croxton, who has never made a governor's race before, has not stated flatly that he will run this year. He has admitted, however, that he is "thinking seriously about it," and said that if indications point that way next year "I would not shrink what I feel is my public duty."

Faubus, too, has not said he will seek term No. 6. But he did have this to say: "I don't know. Honestly. But I won't shut the door, and neither will I open it."

The governor made similar statements before running for his fifth term, which gave him the longest tenure of any Arkansas governor.

Croxton has been tenacious in his criticism of the Faubus administration. Faubus has been quick with rebuttal.

When a man isn't in office, but wants to be, he finds flaws in the officeholder's program and explains how he could do a better job. Croxton seems to be doing this.

It all started with Croxton's calling the 1963 Arkansas legislative session a "lousy" one and blaming Gov. Orval E. Faubus and his legislative right-hand man Rep. Paul Van Dalsem of Perry County.

When a man is in office, and wants to stay there, he tells the people what good things he has done for them, and what he is still doing. Faubus seems to be doing this.

He lauded his administration last week at a North Little Rock civic club speech and at an electric co-operative membership meeting at Perryville.

The most recent outburst came Sunday at the dedication of the Thomas B. Fitzhugh steam generating plant at Ozark.

Faubus told some 1,000 persons that political leadership cannot be neglected. He urged the co-operative to build its proposed Augusta plant as soon as possible, saying "I won't be here always."

He cited Croxton as one of "these mouthpieces" who, if they become governor, will "yap when someone pulls their string. And they may not be on your side."

Croxton blames Faubus for what he calls the failure of the recent legislative session to produce constructive laws.

"He did not put forth a constructive program," Croxton said. The representative also said a "power complex" has developed under Faubus, resulting in "a fear complex." He said county officials heel to the "Faubus Administration because they know if they don't, then they won't get a new road, or some other facility they need."

The fight is not confined to words. Faubus has said he does not believe a voter registration law needs to be passed yet, because of the Columbia Military Academy in Columbia, Tenn.

Dr. and Mrs. F. C. Crow took Kathy Crow home to Ft. Smith this weekend. She has been visiting them the past week in Hope.

RFK Takes Rights Fight to Senate

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy carries the fight for the administration's civil rights program to the Senate today, where a long, bitter battle and a probable filibuster loom before it.

He was called by the Senate Commerce Committee as the first witness on legislation to force desegregation of stores, restaurants, hotels, theaters and other privately-owned businesses serving the public.

This is just one part of the seven-point bill submitted to Congress, but it was introduced separately in the Senate in a strategic maneuver aimed at speeding action.

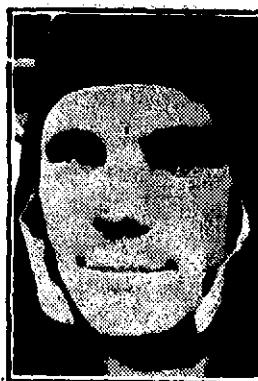

The complete package, including the public accommodations provisions, has been sent to the Senate Judiciary Committee headed by Sen. James O. Eastland, D-Miss., foe of civil rights measures.

Administration leaders don't expect any fast action by Eastland's committee. But they are looking to the Commerce Committee, under the chairmanship of Sen. Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., to move the public accommodations bill along without delay.

Magnuson said in a television interview Sunday that there may be some amendments, such as exempting smaller businesses, but predicted his committee would approve the basic provision of the administration's public accommodations bill.

Once this bill is brought before the Senate, other parts of the president's program could be offered as amendments to it. Or an alternative course would be to wait for the House to act on the whole package and then take it up when it reaches the Senate. Assistant Senate leader Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota has said "We cannot expect to get through the Senate any bill stronger than that the House votes."

Either way, a Southern filibuster probably will have to be overcome to get the legislation passed. To cut off debate and

Romania Is New Rebel in Red Camp

By PRESTON GROVER

BERLIN (AP)—A possible new break in the Communist facade has appeared. Romania's veteran Red leader, Georgehe Gheorghiu-Dej, is shunning the top level talks Soviet Premier Khrushchev is holding in East Berlin with his force a showdown will take a two-thirds majority of Senators voting.

European allies. Khrushchev told an East German audience Sunday night that communism stands "as firm as granite." But the gap in the ranks of the European Reds standing glumly around him underlined the growing crisis in the world Communist movement.

Also absent—as expected—was Albania which has supported Communist China in its dispute with the Soviet Union.

Romania's absence was all the more glaring since Khrushchev presumably summoned his satellite chiefs to muster support for conference with the Red Chinese which opens in Moscow Friday. Red China declared today that

7 Weddings Scheduled Together

STAR CITY, Ark. (AP) — On July 14, at the Star City Baptist Church, a bride will saunter down the aisle. And then there'll be another, and another, and another.

In fact, seven in all. It's the mass wedding precipitated by the April announcement by the Social Security Administration that it would not pay benefits to wives and widows who were not legally married. This pointed up a 1941 Arkansas law which voided all marriages in which the groom was less than 18 years old, or the bride less than 16.

Seven couples from the Star City area were caught in the predicament, and decided to re-tie the wedding knot.

The brides have gone shopping, and with all manner of giggles selected their wedding gowns, which will be identical. Mr. and Mrs. Roy Harmon of Star City, the first couple to re-wed, placed an advertisement in a Star City weekly newspaper, urging other couples in the same plight to join them and "bring all your kids."

All the kids—all 21 of them—will be there.

The other couples are Mr. and Mrs. Bill Cogbill, Mr. and Mrs. Huey Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. McBroom, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Evans, Mr. and Mrs. Lamar Allison and Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Burnett.

The ceremony will begin at 3:30 p.m., with Rev. Roy Moore of Greenbrier officiating. He is Mrs. Evans' father.

And can't you hear it now: "Mrs. Harmon, Mrs. Cogbill, Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. McBroom, Mrs. Evans, Mrs. Allison and Mrs. Burnett," the preacher says. "Do you take Roy, Bill, Huey, E. A., Ed, Lamar and Carroll, respectively, to be your lawful..."

its quarrel with the Soviet Union had grown from an ideological dispute to a question of government relations.

It said it still intends to send a delegation to Moscow to discuss differences but emphasized that it will hold to its tough line.

A Chinese Communist party statement charged that the Soviet expulsion of five Chinese from the Soviet Union last week constituted a "serious step in further worsening of Chinese-Soviet relations and in manufacturing a split in the international Communist movement."

Ostensibly the European Red leaders gathered in East Berlin to celebrate the birthday of East German Communist leader Walter Ulbricht, who was 70 Sunday. But as the Red brass assembled, it became apparent the meeting had a more significant purpose.

Albania, North Korea and North Viet Nam have committed themselves openly to Peking. They have endorsed the Chinese view that Khrushchev's efforts to avoid nuclear war with the West have carried him out of the sphere of revolutionary communism.

Addressing birthday greetings Ulbricht, the Soviet premier praised him for his support of the international Communist movement.

The audience of some 3,000 East Germans cheered enthusiastically when Khrushchev pledged that Germany would one day be united but under communism.

But there was little enthusiasm in the grim faces of four major Soviet bloc leaders—Janos Kadar of Hungary, Antonin Novotny of Czechoslovakia, Todor Zhivkov of Bulgaria and Wladyslaw Gombulka of Poland.

Israel's New Premier Puts
Security 1st

By HAL MCCLURE

JERUSALEM, Israeli Sector (AP) — Israel's new prime minister, Levi Eshkol, has warned the Arab states his No. 1 objective is to strengthen the security of this 15-year-old state.

Thus Eshkol, whose tripartite centrist coalition Cabinet was approved by the Knesset (parliament) last week, served notice he intends to pursue the stay-tough policies of his predecessor, David Ben-Gurion, who resigned for personal reasons.

Where Ben-Gurion, 76, was inclined to be stubborn and autocratic, Eshkol, Israeli finance minister for 13 years, is noted for patience and an ability to bring together those holding divergent views.

In setting forth his administration's objectives to the Knesset, Eshkol, 67, made it clear he did not expect to be pushed into the sea by his Arab neighbors. While noting that Arab states are bickering in their efforts to unite, Esh-kol saw a danger in this unity goal.

Eshkol, like Ben-Gurion before him, believes that only a strong Israel can prevent war in the Middle East. Indeed, one of the last acts of the outgoing Ben-Gurion Cabinet was to approve an additional 10 million Israeli pounds—$3.3 million—allocation for Israeli defense.

Eshkol also promised to continue to strengthen and develop the Israeli armed forces, which under Ben-Gurion won notable victories in 1949 and 1956.

WALDRON, Ark. (AP)—Thomas J. McDonough, 25, of Bossier City, La., was fatally injured Wednesday when his station wagon collided with a log truck on U.S. Highway 71, two miles south of "Y" City in Scott County.

Congress Has Little to Show to Date

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST
WASHINGTON (AP) - Congress completed the first six months of what may be a year-long session by taking a week off for Independence Day flag-waving and oratory.

After a half year of sporadic labors, it has little to show except a stack of unfinished business.

The official "status of major legislation" reads like the line score of the Washington Senators in an American League baseball game. It lists the enactment of four public laws, one extending the draft law, one authorizing procurement of aircraft, missiles and naval vessels, and two appropriation bills.

The seeming snail's pace does not appear to alarm congressional leaders.

Rep. Hale Boggs of Louisiana, the Democratic House whip, summed up their sentiment with these words:

"We've got pretty much done and we're going to do lots more. The year is only half gone. We are paid for a year's work and we can stay here all year if we have to."

Congress might do just that if some of the big bills jelling in committees are to be considered. Members already are talking about a long recess over Labor Day. They are resigned to a long session.

There is no certainty now that a tax revision bill requested by President Kennedy will be passed this year by the House. It has become entangled with the President's broad civil rights program which is overshadowing everything else on Capitol Hill.

11 Violent Deaths in Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Eleven violent deaths over the weekend sent Arkansas' violent death toll soaring to 27 for the week ended at midnight Sunday.

Four other deaths occurred at Little Rock Friday. A mother was found dead and her three children had been bludgeoned to death.

Pulaski County Coroner Howard K. Dishongh is expected to rule on the deaths Tuesday. Sheriff Frank Mackey said it appeared to be a triple murder and suicide.

Mackey said Mrs. Anna Ashcraft, 28, apparently beat to death her children—Ronald, 11, Beverly, 8, and Vickie, 5—and then killed herself. Dishongh said he would analyze granules found in her stomach.

Three persons died in accidents in Arkansas Sunday.

Vernon Wharton, 37, of near Vilonia, was fatally burned when a tractor he was riding overturned, pinned him beneath it and caught fire. He died an hour later at a Conway hospital.

Willie F. Hatley, 21, and Joe B. Felton, 36, both of Mineral Springs, were killed when their car failed to make a curve on Highway 355 and hit a tree three miles north of McNab, near Hope.

Also during the week, 10 persons drowned, 6 others died in traffic accidents, 1 was electrocuted, 1 was stabbed to death, 1 was strangled, and 1 was killed when hit by a train.

G.O.P. Gets 'Hot Spot' Appointment

An AP News-Picture Package.

EDITOR'S NOTE—In naming Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. to be ambassador to South Viet Nam, President Kennedy has again demonstrated a tendency to fill politically hot jobs with Republicans. The rollcall includes such administration stalwarts as Robert S. McNamara and C. Douglas Dillon. But does it inhibit GOP criticism? Jack Bell, Associated Press political writer, discusses the situation.

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Kennedy can expect early and overwhelming Senate approval of his nomination of Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. as ambassador to South Viet Nam.

But there will be no accompanying guarantee that Republicans will soft pedal their criticism of administration Asian policies as a result.

In picking Lodge, the 1960 GOP vice presidential nominee, for the tough Saigon post, Kennedy demonstrated anew a tendency to dip into Republican ranks when there is a politically controversial job to fill.

Republicans Robert S. McNamara in defense and C. Douglas Dillon at the Treasury plug two Cabinet hot spots. Former GOP Secretary of State Christian A. Herter serves as the President's international trade negotiator. William C. Foster, once a Westchester County, N.Y., GOP official, heads up the disarmament agency.

Republican John A. McCone runs the Central Intelligence Agency. In the past when the President needed an old hand for particularly difficult fencing with the Russians, he has called in John J. McCloy, another Republican.

These key appointees lend a shade of bipartisanship to areas where Kennedy would like a little less criticism and a little more cooperation from the Republicans.

With his selection of Lodge, Kennedy was keeping pace with precedents laid down by Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Kennedy once offered former Vice President Richard M. Nixon a choice of appointments but the 1960 presidential loser wanted none.

There always is griping among Republicans when one of their number goes over to a Democratic administration. Dillon, for one, was looked upon as a political turncoat.

But Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., said he doesn't expect much of this in Lodge's case. He called Lodge's qualifications for his new job exceptional.

Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel of California, the assistant Senate Republican leader, said in a separate interview he is glad to see the administration "use Lodge's capabilities in one of the most inflammatory parts of the world."

long and bitter fight over both taxes and civil rights, leaders may concentrate during the next few months on disposing of the necessary appropriation bills and some relatively non-controversial measures.

Cherokee Indians, involved in the Muscle Shoals "massacre" migrated to Arkansas in 1794.

GOLDWATER AND WELL-WISHERS: His problem: How to translate those vague conservative feelings into convention votes.

Hensley Retires as Prison Head

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Lee Hensley, a veteran of 34 years with the Arkansas prison system, retires today as superintendent of the State Penitentiary.

Dan Stephens, who had been at the prison since last September, will move from assistant superintendent to superintendent. He said he would continue Hensley's policies.

A special audit report by the Legislative Joint Audit Committee had high praise Saturday for Hensley, who is retiring because of poor health.

Fitzhugh, legal counsel for the ASEC, was described by Clyde Ellis, former third district Arkansas senator, as "Fitzhugh, the founder."

Ten other persons who had been associated with Fitzhugh delivered anecdotes about their association with him. Mrs. Fitzhugh, who was on the stand throughout the program, said nothing, but pushed a button at the end which put into operation a water fountain memorial to her husband, who died in 1954.

The plant actually began operation last Thursday.

The move for the new plant began in 1947 when the ASEC instructed Fitzhugh to make a power supply survey preliminary to seek Rural Electrification Administration funds.

The REA approved a $10.5 million loan on Nov. 25, 1950, for the Ozark station and transmission lines to serve the Arkansas Valley Co-Operative of Ozark, the Carroll Electric Co. - operative of Berryville and the Ozark Electric Co-Operative of Fayetteville.

In 1951, the Public Service Commission granted a certificate of convenience and necessity to the building and producing of power by the ASEC. Two years later the state Supreme Court overruled the PSC.

It was not until 1955 that the Arkansas legislature pass a bill making co-op steam plants legal. Fitzhugh signed the bill almost immediately.

Bids were taken on the plant Aug. 1, 1960, and on May 28, 1962, the ASEC announced that the plant would be constructed for $7.5 million, $2 million less than the original estimate.

Faubus took a slap at Rep. Hardy Croxton of Benton County, calling him a "mouthpiece" and warning that if Croxton became governor things might not go so well for the co-operative.

The station launched the first electric power produced by the co-operative, and today will begin selling power to the Southwestern Power Administration, the Arkansas Electric Co-Operative and the Southwestern Electric Co. - opera-

Schools Mail Preference Form

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Little Rock School Board has mailed school preference forms to parents of children who will be in the fourth grade next year.

The mailing is a step to carry out the board's plan to integrate elementary schools at the first and fourth grade levels. Similar forms were mailed to parents of first-graders-to-be in the spring.

Negro students who express a desire to attend a previously all-white school will be considered for assignment to that school, a board spokesman said. Eight have been assigned to integrated first grades.

New York Ends Death Sentence

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) - The mandatory death penalty for persons convicted of premeditated murder was abolished in New York State today.

Under a law effective today, the penalty for premeditated murder will be life imprisonment unless the jury, meeting in a separate session after returning a verdict, agrees unanimously on the death penalty.

New York thus became the last state in the nation to eliminate the mandatory death sentence in convictions for premeditated murder.

In the change, the state also has eliminated a long-standing distinction between first-degree murders—premeditated and felony.

"Felony murder" is the designation for a slaying committed during a crime, such as robbery or arson, and not necessarily premeditated. All persons who participate in the crime are subject to charges of first-degree murder, regardless of which one did the actual killing.

Henceforth, there will be no distinction in first-degree murder cases in setting the penalty. It will be life imprisonment unless the jury recommends death.

One Bad Ball Ruined Boros at Cleveland

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—National Open champion Julius Boros hit a ball out of bounds on the sixth hole in the third round of the $10,000 Cleveland Open tournament and the miscue turned the golf world topsy-turvy.

The errant shot, only one that went out of bounds in four days, caused Boros to take a two-over par seven on the hole, cost him $17,683.33 in cash and prevented him from setting a new annual money won record.

Had Boros scored a par 3 on the hole which is considered almost a certain birdie, since the pros usually reach the 511-yard green in two strokes, the National Open king would have won the $22,000 top prize and there would have been no need for today's 18-hole playoff for the title between Arnold Palmer, Tony Lema and Tommy Aaron.

Boros birdied the same hole easily in the fourth round Sunday, reaching it with two wood shots as he scored a 65 on the par 71 Beechmont Country Club course in a valiant effort to win. He fell one shy, however, as Palmer and Lema scored 68s for 273 totals. 11 under par, and Aaron birdied the last four holes for a 66 to get into the deadlock.

In today's 18-hole extra heat, the winner picks up $22,000 and the two others get $8,550 each. Boros received $4,316.67 as he tied Sam Snead and Jack Burke at 274. It ran his year's earnings to $63,996.

Aaron, 26-year-old Gainesville, Ga., sufferer who reached the finals of the 1958 National Amateur, has never won a tournament in his three years on the tour.

Lema, a 29-year-old ex-Marine who served in Korea, has been a pro since 1953, but created no furor until the last three months of 1962 when he won $20,000.

Palmer, of Ligonier, Pa., is golf-dom's "Mr. Everything." This is Palmer's third straight playoff. He won the Thunderbird Open in overtime two weeks ago and lost the National Open the same way.

Travelers to Play Next at Buffalo

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—The slumping Arkansas Travelers, losers in four of five games against Columbus, venture out against the Buffalo Bisons tonight in hopes of renewing their drive toward the International League title.

The Travelers are in third place in the Southern Division of the league, 10 games behind leader Atlanta.

Arkansas split a doubleheader with Columbus Sunday, winning the opener 8-5 and losing the nightcap 6-1.

In other games Sunday, Atlanta swept Buffalo 2-1 and 10-2. Indianapolis took two from Jacksonville, 14-2 and 8-7. Rochester topped Richmond 3-1 and 1-0 and Syracuse beat Toronto 7-3 and then lost 6-5.

Dick Quiroz got a starting pitcher's role for the first time for Arkansas and chalked up the only Traveler triumph in the Columbus series.

The Crackers' Doug Clemens slugged three home runs, and Sam Jones was the winning pitcher in both games after 7-3 innings of hitless relief pitching.

Buster Narum and Nat Martinez hurled complete games in the Rochester sweep.

Indianapolis slugged the reeling Jacksonville pitching staff for 22 runs and 25 hits, including homers by Charlie Smith, Ray Conde and Deacon Jones.

Two-run homers by Gene Alley and Manny Mota wrapped up the nightcap victory for Columbus after Arkansas won the first game on the sharp pitching of Quiroz.

Yanks Give Lesson to Mr. Roberts

By JIM BECKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

If Robin Roberts will stop sobbing softly over there in the corner, we will discuss what the Boston Red Sox learned over the weekend about how to beat the New York Yankees.

First, they learned that Yogi Berra's .186 batting average does not indicate that he can't hit any more.

Then they learned that you do not give the Yankees four outs in an inning. And you definitely do not give them five.

And Robin's problem? Well, Roberts has pitched in 573 major league games but the one he is likely to remember in the wee hours of the morning when sleep comes hard, is the first game of Sunday's Baltimore-Kansas City doubleheader.

Roberts went 13 1-3 innings in muggy heat, left with one out in the 14th, a runner on second and the score tied 1-1. Meanwhile, his Oriole mates had left 13 men on base.

A walk, a ground out, and then reliever Dick Hall served a two-run single to Doc Edwards. The 3-1 loss was pinned on Roberts.

The Orioles struggled 12 innings in the second game to win 4-3. The Yankees pasted the Red Sox twice, 4-2 and 11-4, and may have buried any pennant hopes that lurked in the Boston breast. The double win gave the Yankees a two-game American League lead, and dropped the Red Sox 4½ games back.

The second place Chicago White Sox split, dropping the opener to the Cleveland Indians 4-4 for their third straight loss, before winning the second game 4-2.

The Minnesota Twins won their seventh straight 6-2 over Washington, and Detroit trimmed the Los Angeles Angels 6-5.

In the National League, Houston edged the leading St. Louis Cardinals 1-0. San Francisco beat Cincinnati 7-3. Milwaukee blanked Los Angeles 7-0. Pittsburgh shut out the New York Mets 3-0 and Philadelphia defeated Chicago 3-2.

Old Yogi, now 38 and used mostly as a coach and pinch hitter this season, slugged a three-run homer in the first inning off Red Sox starter Bill Monbouquette for all the runs the Yankees needed. The Red Sox got nine hits off Whitey Ford—who won his 12th and ninth straight decision—and reliever Hal Reniff who came on in the seventh. Monbouquette, who had won nine straight, and Arnold Earley held the Yanks to five.

Although the Red Sox stranded nine men in the first four innings of the second game, they had a 2-1 lead in the Yankee fourth. With the bases loaded, Boston first baseman Dick Stuart let Tony Kubek's two-out grounder go through his legs for a three-run, three-base error.

In the seventh, the Red Sox messed up a foul pop by Roger Maris, who promptly singled, and then Chuck Shilling made his second error of the season on a two-out grounder. Four runs followed. Two-run homers by Max Alvis, Mike de la Hoz and Woody Held powered the Indians in their opener. Dick Donovan lost a shutout in the ninth.

Gary Peters pitched a seven-hitter in the second game for his fifth victory, and third over the Indians. Pete Ward had two hits including his 10th homer and Tom McCraw singled home two runs for the White Sox.

Minnesota held onto third spot, 2½ games back, as Camil Pascual and Mike Fornieles teamed for the victory. Pascual left after three innings when his arm stiffened. He had not pitched since June 12 because of a muscle strain in his right shoulder, but he fanned five of the 10 batters he faced before he left. Jimmie Hall's three-run homer was the big blow. The A's didn't get a bit until the seventh.

Dick McAuliffe hit a lead-off homer in the ninth off Los Angeles relief ace Julio Navarro for the Detroit victory. For the Angels, Leon Wagner had a good day in the field, hit his 19th homer raised his batting average to a league leading .351 and his RBI total to 57.

Tennis Group Criticized on Selection

By GEOFFREY MILLER

WIMBLEDON, England (AP)—The seeding committee of the All-Tennis Championships is under criticism for its seeding of the players.

With the Wimbledon tournament swinging into the final half today, eight seeds in the men's singles are left to fight out the quarter-finals. They are Roy Emerson of Australia, the favorite, second seeded Manuel Santana of Spain, and Chuck McKinley of San Antonio, Tex., seeded fourth.

The other five were toppled during the first four rounds.

The seeding committee is never 100 per cent popular. Now the critics contend that stars like Rafael Osuna of Mexico and Ramanathan Krishnan of India should have been seeded for rightful places in the quarter-finals.

The classic match of the tournament thus far was the third round duel between Santana and Osuna. Santana won in five sets after a brilliant display by both players.

Seatings are based mainly on players records in this year's major tournaments—notably on the Australian and European circuits. Osuna didn't play on either—hence his omission from the seedings.

The women's seedings were a bit more successful. Six of the eight—Margaret Smith of Australia, Mrs. Ann Jones of Britain, Darlene Hard of Long Beach, Calif., Jan Lehane of Australia, Maria Bueno of Brazil and Rene Schuurman of South Africa—are in the quarter-finals.

Hector Brown Is Man Cards Now Regret

By JIM HACLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

It's hard to figure Hector (Skinny) Brown, who has bounced around the baseball world with indifferent success since he broke in as a kid pitcher in the Piedmont League 17 years ago, as a history-maker.

But the 38-year-old right-hander has his claims to fame.

Only two major league games ever have been played on Sunday night—and Brown has won them both.

Pitching masterfully in the clutch, Brown spun a seven-hit shutout at Houston as the last-place Colts edged the National League leading St. Louis Cardinals 1-0 Sunday night. That doubled his victory output for the season. His other one came in a 3-0 decision over San Francisco on June 9—when Houston inaugurated after-dark play on Sunday.

Brown's pitching and a run-producing single in the fourth inning enabled the Colts to beat the Cards for the first time in eight meetings this season—and post only the second victory in their last 14 games.

However, the Cards maintained their 1½-game grip on first place—with the aid of Milwaukee's Tony Cloninger. The young right-hander fired a two-hitter and faced only 28 men in the Braves' 7-0 romp over the second-place Los Angeles Dodgers.

Also in the NL—the San Francisco Giants climbed to within two percentage points of Los Angeles, beating Cincinnati 7-3 as south-paw Billy Pierce won for the first time since April 16; Pittsburgh's Bob Friend and Al McBean combined for a three-hit 3-0 decision over the New York Mets; and Philadelphia shaded the Chicago Cubs 3-2.

New York's Yankees boosted their American League lead to two full games with a doubleheader sweep over Boston, 4-2 and 11-4. Also in the AL—Minnesota won its seventh straight, 6-2 against Washington; Detroit edged Los Angeles 6-5; the Chicago White Sox blanked Cleveland 4-0 after losing the doubleheader opener to the Indians 8-4; and Kansas City and Baltimore divided a pair of extra-inning games, the A's winning 3-1 in 14 and the Orioles 4-3 in 12.

Cloninger got his chief hitting support from Hank Aaron, who has been battering Dodger pitching this year, and Roy McMillan. Aaron smacked his 22nd homer and a single, giving him 16 hits in 30 at-bats against Los Angeles this year, and McMillan drove in two Milwaukee runs with a homer and double.

Friend made his personal record 7-for-7 against the Mets, yielding only two singles before retiring after eight innings in the muggy heat at Pittsburgh. McBean finished, giving up one more single.

The Phils took a 2-0 against Cub loser Larry Jackson with four straight singles in the second inning and got their decisive run in the seventh when Tony Gonzalez doubled and Frank Torre singled. Art Mahaffey won it with relief help from Johnny Klipp-

Willie McCovey's 18th homer in the sixth inning at San Francisco off Jim O'Toole snapped a 1-1 tie between the Cincinnati ace and Pierce. The Giants then rushed across five unearned runs in the seventh against Al Worthington, the last three riding in on Willie Mays' homer.

Pierce, now 2-5, yielded eight hits to the Reds, including a two-run homer to Eddie Kasko in the ninth. O'Toole, who had permitted only two hits before McCovey's homer, took his fifth loss against 13 victories.

Reforms in Georgia Have Progressed

By O. P. HANES

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—"It is not right to shut a man like a mad dog in a cage, whip him with a rubber hose and work him as a brutal drayman might work a sick horse."

Georgia has come a long way along the road to reforms since former Gov. Ellis Arnall, then 35, in September 1943 gave a special session of the legislature that description of conditions in the state prison system.

The chains, the caging in sweat-boxes, the whipping and sadistic brutality by guards officially are no more.

The function of a prison system, Arnall said, "is to rehabilitate and provide useful training for the inmates."

A nationally known penologist, pressed into service by Gov. Carl E. Sanders, again has reported that there virtually is no rehabilitation or education for the 10,000 convicts in Georgia.

Sanders, 38, moved quickly after receiving the report from Joseph E. Ragen, director of the Illinois penal system and for many years warden of Joliet, Ill., penitentiary.

A shakeup in the State Department of Corrections shunted the $17,600-a-year director to a minor job in state government. His chief assistant plans to retire.

Sanders dug into the state surplus to make $2.5 million available for prison reform. He will ask the 1964 legislature to appropriate millions more. He hired Fred Hallford, a retired Federal Bureau of Investigation official with 23 years service, as prison chief.

The prison situation has raged off and on as a controversy for more than 30 years.

In 1931 Robert Elliott Burns wrote a book, "I Am a Fugitive From a Georgia Chain Gang" which was made into a movie the following year. Burns told of inhumanities in the prison system, from which he escaped twice.

Burns said in his book that he accompanied a flophouse acquaintance to the robbery of a grocery store in 1922 which netted $5. He described himself as a jobless and hungry World War I veteran.

Burns was captured, sentenced and placed in a chain gang working on the roads.

He escaped two months after receiving the 6-to-10-year sentence and fled to Chicago where, seven years later, he was a $20,000-a-year magazine editor. His first wife told authorities in 1929 of his whereabouts and he was returned to the chain gang.

Burns escaped again the following year, went to New York and wrote the book. Three New Jersey governors refused to extradite him to Georgia after Burns became a respected tax consultant in Newark.

Official Georgia, including then-Gov. Eugene Talmadge, called Burns' story untrue. But in 1937, Gov. E. D. Rivers ordered chain gangs eliminated.

Arnall went further shortly after becoming governor in January 1943. The legislature at his behest passed laws to abolish the use of leg irons, chains and manacles. Other legislation abolished striped uniforms and established the Board of Corrections. Guards were told that use of the whip would mean immediate dismissal.

Arnall kept thinking of Burns and the black eye his book had given Georgia. The governor interviewed the former convict but the State Pardon and Parole Board refused to free him as long as Burns remained a fugitive.

In 1945, Burns returned to Georgia, telling his anxious second wife, Clara, "in all people's lives there comes a time when one must show courage."

With Arnall as his counsel, Burns faced the board. It erased the prison sentence and restored full civil rights. He died in a Veterans Hospital at the age of 65 in 1955.

Since Arnall's day, various legislative committees have reported on the prisons. Some were critical and reported a lack of rehabilitation. A group of legislators said last year that some units of the system were too nice for the convicts.

Georgians generally went their way with little thought of the prisons.

But the nation was shocked in 1951 when 40 prisoners at the rock quarry prison for incorrigibles at Buford ate a Christmas dinner and then cut their heel tendons with razor blades.

Prison authorities described it as a plot to break up the prison. They said the men had com-

Ecumenical Group Called by the Pope

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI has formally ordered the Roman Catholic Ecumenical Council to reconvene Sept. 29, the Vatican announced today.

An announcement by the Vatican's special council press office disclosed the date and said the text of the order will be sent to Roman Catholic bishops around the world.

More than 2,500 are expected to come to Rome for the assembly, the biggest gathering of Roman Catholic prelates in history. The council was first called by Pope John XXIII to promote the cause of Christian unity.

The council convened last Oct. 11. Pope John recessed it on Dec. 8 until Sept. 8, but it was automatically suspended by Pope John's death.

Pope Paul, 24 hours after his election, announced in his first message to the world that he would continue the council.

There was still a question, however, whether Pope Paul would bring the council to a conclusion by Christmas. John had hoped to do so.

Vatican circles said the three-week delay might not permit this, and that a third council session might be necessary.

Other Vatican sources said Pope Paul also might be considering prolonging the council to take up some matters that John

Thinks Every Picture Like Opening Nite

By BOB THOMAS

AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—"Don't let any actor tell you acting is a cinch," said Alan Ladd. "I've done 150 movies and every new one is like opening night."

The blond, compactly-built star was visibly nervous, and not without reason. He was back at Paramount this week to appear in "The Carpetbaggers," his first film in a decade at the studio where he became one of the screen's biggest money-makers. And it was his return to work after a gun accident that nearly cost his life.

Nervous as he was, he still managed to knock off a long scene with George Peppard and Archie Moore in an hour, finishing his day's work before lunch.

"It's quite a thrill to be back here again," he said afterward. "When I was a kid, I used to live up the street from Paramount in an apartment next to the fire station. On Saturdays and Sundays I would climb over the wall of the cemetery and sneak into the studio next door. Later I worked here as a bit player."

In 1941 he returned to play a killer in "This Gun for Hire." He became Paramount's most serviceable star, battling his way through five pictures a year.

"None of them ever lost money," he said, knocking wood.

"Shane" made something like $30 million, the last I heard. I don't know how much the others earned. Nobody ever told me."

For money and other reasons, he left Paramount in 1953 to earn his foot independently. His career continued to flourish, but it almost came to an end last November. What happened?

"I fell on my rear," he said sheepishly.

Ladd explained that he was at his ranch near Camarillo. The place has an elaborate alarm system since it is near a state mental institution. One night it appeared that an intruder was on the grounds.

"I got my gun and leaped out of bed," he said. "The dog was on the floor beside the bed and I tripped over him. I started falling and that's all I remember.

"The bullet went right through my chest, missing the heart by a couple of inches. It went through the left lung and deflated it. The funny thing is that the bullet didn't go through me. It apparently ricocheted inside, breaking three of the back ribs. The doctors had to break three of my ribs in front to go in and get the bullet."

Ladd said he made a rapid recovery and has been taking some rugged exercise to prepare for his role. He plays Nevada Smith, the cowboy star in the Hollywood saga.

Whose idea was it for Ladd to return to his old home lot? Martin Rackin, Paramount production head.

"I gave him his first producing

5.8 Million Chicks Started

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Arkansas producers started 5,860,000 broiler chicks during the week ended June 22, the Crop Reporting Service estimated today.

This is two per cent above the figure for the previous week. Of the total placements in the state, 5,099,000 chicks were hatched in Arkansas and 761,000 came from other states.

There were 167,000 broiler chicks shipped out of state during the week.

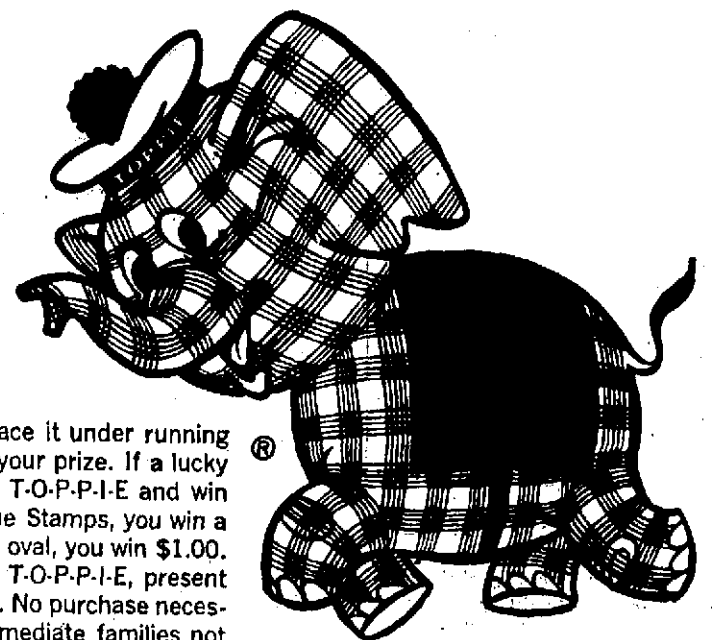

The original name for Searcy, White County, was Sulphur Springs, and was an important health center until the springs dried up.

Rights Bill Not Likely This Year

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—Would a massive Negro demonstration in Washington this summer persuade Congress — if it showed signs of balking — to pass President Kennedy's civil rights program?

Not in a hurry and not this year, if history is an example.

Three times in the past 70 years demonstrators have come to Washington to press for their ideas. Coxey's Army, suffragettes, and the Bonus Army all tried it. Each time it took Congress years to do what the demonstrators wanted.

Last Saturday Kennedy met with Negro and white civil rights leaders. He warned them against undue pressure on Congress. So did Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy.

But the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr. and others said that if there is a filibuster by Southern Democrats against a civil rights bill Negroes will have a "non-violent demonstration in Washington." If so, many thousands may be involved.

It took Congress about 40 years to come around to the idea proposed in the 1894 depression by Jacob S. Coxey, a successful businessman of Massillon, Ohio.

He wanted Congress to do something about unemployment and suggested a big road-building program to create jobs. He rallied about 2,000 jobless men from around the country and led this "Coxey's Army" into Washington.

When he marched up to the Capitol on May 1, 1894, he was arrested for holding a meeting without a permit and damaging the grass.

It wasn't until the next great depression—in the 1930s—that Congress got around to creating the kind of make-jobs program Coxey had plugged for.

Next came the suffragettes. As early as the 17th century a few women in this country had called for equal treatment. But it wasn't until the 20th century that the Constitution gave them a national guarantee of the right to vote.

The real agitation by women for equal rights—and eventually the vote—got under way in the middle of the 19th century. As early as 1866 they petitioned Congress for voting rights. States began to listen.

By the time President Wilson moved into the White House in 1913 the suffragettes had gained strength, benefits and sympathy. They wanted a constitutional amendment to consummate a reform which by then had long been under way in the states.

In 1917 they picketed the White House to urge Wilson to get behind an amendment in Congress. They were arrested and jailed and some went on a hunger strike.

Wilson pushed for them. And on June 4, 1919, Congress approved a constitutional amendment—the 19th—which then went to the states for approval and was adopted Aug. 26, 1920.

The next try—by the Bonus Army—ended in disaster. The army of jobless World War I veterans was run out of Washington in the summer of 1932.

About 18,000 to 20,000 of them came here from all over the country, some with their families. They lived in empty government buildings or built shacks on the outskirts of the city.

These men wanted Congress to vote them a cash bonus. They stayed around for about two months and Congress quit without heeding them.

The government got sick of them. Two of them were shot to death in a brawl with police who tried to drive them out of a building on government land. Then the city commissioners asked President Hoover to use troops to drive them out.

Four troops of cavalry, four companies of infantry, a mounted machinegun squad and six tanks went to work. They had the help of 300 policemen, and some secret service and treasury men.

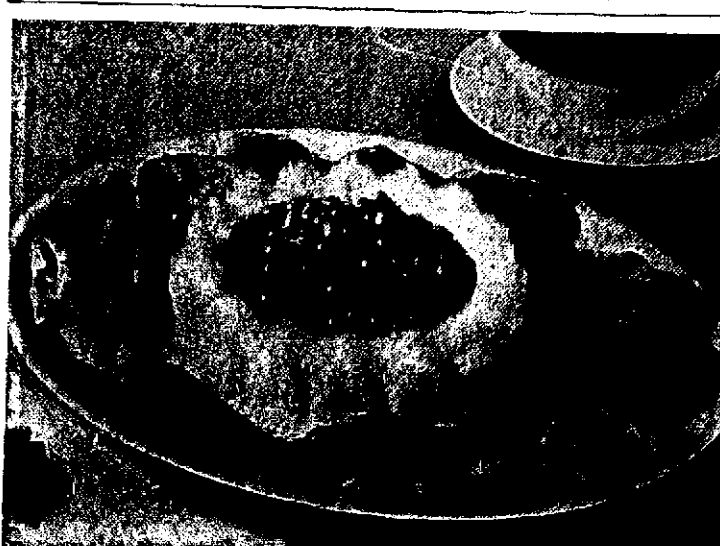

The troops burned the hovels the veterans slept in. The veterans departed. Later, under President Franklin D. Roosevelt, Congress voted the veterans a bonus.

Macmillan Is Still Hopeful

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Harold Macmillan said tonight he hopes to lead the Conservative party in Britain's next general election due by October 1964.

On the eve of President Kennedy's 24-hour visit to England, the 69-year-old British leader appeared to lay at rest reports that he might step down this fall for a younger man.

"All being well and if I keep my health and strength, I hope to lead the party at the next election," he said in an interview recorded for television.

TALKATIVE RELATIVES
HOGS CONVERSATION

By HELEN WORDE NERSKINE
Dear Helen: What can you do about a person who monopolizes the conversation? I've tried shouting but it does no good for there's a resonance to his voice that carries the length of the room. If he weren't a relative of my husband I'd tell him off.

It's our luck to have him drop in every time we are entertaining friends. There we sit, a captive audience, with that monologist taking over for the evening. How can I muffle him without starting a family feud?

His aunt, my husband's cousin, had devoted her life to him, his mother having died young. She has given him all the advantages, even cornet lessons. We all had misgivings about his cornet playing but, since he wanted to learn, Auntie got him the best teacher of the cornet in town. I suppose we could ask him to play instead of talk, but that might be even worse. —Speechless

Dear Speechless: Rent, or buy, a tape recorder. Set it up in the living room and next time your husband's garrulous relative drops by, turn it on explaining first, of course, that you're doing it for fun. If friends are there, so much the better. There's a bit of "ham" in all of us. Give the relative the floor; then let your husband listen to a playback of the relative out talking your guests. That should enlist your husband's help in buttoning the monologist's lip. If the relative hasn't the hide of a crocodile, he will get the point.

Dear Helen: I am 22 and the mother of three small children, having quit school in my junior year to marry. Lack of education has been a matter of regret ever since. Since it's impossible to re-turn to high, I thought of doing the next best thing—taking a correspondence course at home. Is that practical and, if so, how should I go about finding a reputable home study course? —Missed Out

Dear Missed Out: Ask the principal of your old high school if he thinks a correspondence course the answer to your problem. He may suggest evening adult education classes as alternatives. On the theory that sharing makes for a happy marriage, it would be better for your husband to "go to school" with you. Undoubtedly he could find a course to further him in his career.

Dear Helen: I've often thought how convenient it would be to be a child psychologist when it comes to bringing up one's own children. Do you think that the experts have an easier time of it than us ordinary folks? —Wondering

Dear Wondering: Just between you and me, I suspect that the so-called experts run into as many problems as ordinary folks. It's always easier to give advice to

Pope Pledged to Work for Progress

Paul VI: Diplomat and Pastor
EDITOR'S NOTE — Trained in administration and given vital pastoral duties by Pope Pius XII, the new Pontiff has pledged himself to follow the path of progress charted by Pope John XXIII. In this second of a series, AP Correspondent James M. Long, who has known Paul VI for years, reports on the Pontiff's work as a Vatican diplomat and pastor.

By JAMES M. LONG
VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI has pledged himself to follow the path of progress pioneered by Pope John XXIII.

He embarks with administrative experience and important pastoral preparation given him by the more conservative Pope Pius XII.

Pius became Pope after a career in the Vatican Secretariat of State. But Pius had understood the value of the rich human contacts and deep personal satisfactions of the pastoral experience which he never had.

Pius first gave Giovanni Battista Montini a broad outlook on the world from the Vatican's Office of Secretary of State and then sent him to Milan as archbishop in Italy's industrial Red Belt.

It cost Pope Pius his right hand man in church administration. But it gave Archbishop Montini eight rich years of pastoral experience that rounded out his preparation to become Pope Paul VI.

There were paradoxes in his career. One was that he declined the red hat of cardinal just 10 years before he was elected Pope.

But there was the underlying consistency of loyalty, in his devoted service to Pope Pius, and his dedicated support of Pope John's program of progress.

When he moved into the papal apartment of the Apostolic Palace after election last Friday it was almost like coming home. Pope Paul's office and home had been in the Vatican Secretariat of State since 1924, soon after his return from his first diplomatic assignment as secretary to the apostolic nuncio in Warsaw. He was 27.

His rise was steady. In 1937 he became substitute secretary of state. Pope Pius XII promoted him in 1952 to pro-secretary of state, in which he was the Pope's right-hand man in church administration.

In the consistory of 1953, Pope Pius announced he had asked Archbishop Montini to accept the red hat of cardinal. The Pope said Montini refused "from his high sense of duty," preferring to serve the Pope in his office in the Secretariat of State.

It was a sacrifice of princelyhood rarely disclosed in the modern history of the Roman Catholic Church. Pius obviously was deeply moved. A year later, in 1954, the Pope sent Montini north to Milan, as archbishop of the most important diocese in Italy outside Rome.

History may record it as an act of destiny. At the time Archbishop Montini wept and said sorrowfully "Today I have become an orphan."

It was a token of his love of Pope Pius, as for a father.

Yet on Epiphany Day of January 1955, when the new archbishop of Milan drove into his diocese, for the first time a pastor, he had dedicated himself to his new duties.

He stepped from his car in sleet and rain. And before the Milanese who braved the bitter weather to greet him, he knelt and kissed the ground of his native North Italy.

He rose and faced them — the people of the bustling, prospering, industrial and Communist-leaning area.

He had come to meet his chal-

Shadow in Eclipse To Follow Moon's

WASHINGTON (AP) — An astronaut and a female astronomer will participate in a study of the sun during a total eclipse July 20, streaking across Canada by jet plane in the wake of the moon's shadow.

A spokesman for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said that in addition to the astronaut, as yet unnamed, and the astronomer, Dr. Jocelyn R. Gill, two researchers from the Ames Research Center at Moffett Field, Calif., will be aboard.

Early this century, the waters of Ravenden Springs were noted for their healing powers, and the town became known as a health resort.

Many large commercial flower farms are located in Pine Bluff for the raising of gladioli, lilies and iris.

Others than to follow it oneself. I ought to know lunge there in the Red Belt. His first words were those of prayer, of affection of hope.

"Pray," he urged them.

"Pray as I pray—that the vibration of machinery shall become as music, and the fumes of the smokestacks shall become as incense."

Then, with the intensity with which he always plunged into new endeavor, he went to work to make it so.

He rounded up nearly 1,000 priests from all over Italy. He sent them out to the industrial suburbs of the city to carry the message of the church into the strongholds of communism.

And he went out there himself. One of his first visits was to Milan's San Vittore jail to talk with the prisoners, just as Pope John some years later visited Rome's Regina Coeli prison soon after his coronation.

The Archbishop of Milan put on a miner's helmet and went down into the pits. He went to the factories. And he went out to face the Communists in their own Red fortress, the suburb of Sesto San Giovanni, called Italy's Little Stalingrad.

He did not stop at visiting the workers in their plants and at their assembly lines. He went to their wives and their children in humble homes.

He took along a notebook. He was accompanied by two priests. He asked questions and made no promises. But a few days after his visit, poor families found that a doctor showed up for their sick baby. Or a call came saying a job had been found for the unemployed husband.

When he came back to Rome he had eight years of the close personal pastoral relations that a Pope would need in the new age of man.

A Few Tips About the Middle Aged

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Middle age is when—

You spend more time visiting sick friends in the hospital than speeding in night clubs.

Everything that happens to you reminds you of something that happened before. You spend more time remembering than you do experiencing.

The government seems more of a foe than a partner or patron. There are no statesmen left in the world—only politicians.

You pick up a newspaper, glance at the headlines, then read the obituaries before turning to the sports pages. You feel kind of let down on the days when nobody interesting has died.

No present winter is ever quite as cold as the winters of yore. In fact no weather is quite equal to the weather that used to be.

You compare everything now, unfavorably, to what life used to be like in the old days. "The old days"—that is the phrase that comes often to your lips.

One of your deepest satisfactions in living is taking off your shoes.

You no longer impatiently bawl out your wife about why isn't she ready. Instead you take a nap until she is ready to go.

It irritates you to see a young couple smooching on the bus, and you silently ask yourself, "God, was I ever that silly?"

You grumble more and smile less. You realize that every man is, after all, his own best audience—that's why you talk out loud to yourself more often.

When you read an old love letter your chuckle of amusement is drowned in sudden tears for what used to be—and isn't any more, and never will be again.

more and more often you find yourself wide awake in the dark between three and four o'clock in the morning. More and more often you feel guilty—with fewer and fewer real reasons.

Thanks to your splendid new bifocal glasses, you are at last able to read the fine print in your life insurance policy.

When you start to kiss a girl, she automatically turns her cheek to you.

That, brother, is the ultimate index to middle age! So what can you do? Why, simply take another aspirin and a stomach pill—and go on forging upward and onward.

Bids submitted

MALVERN, Ark. (AP)—An apparent low bid of $69,607 was submitted by H. C. Cathey, Inc. of Camden Thursday for grading, draining and paving of a 2,600-foot runway at the Malvern municipal airport. Dyer Electric Co. of Malvern was apparent low bidder, at $13,268, for runway lighting. The Federal Aviation Agency has approved a $59,000 grant to help finance the new facility.

Iron Shirts Professionally

Ironing a man's shirt is the number one home laundry problem. Men who say they don't like starched shirts praise the looks and comfort of the easy, smooth finish that instant spray starch gives. Anyone can learn to do shirts easily and quickly.

Iron yoke, placing the slightly damp shirt on wide part of board, opened, top of shirt at far side. Fold yoke along back seam; spray lightly with convenient spray starch. Spray and iron inside shirt back. Shift the shirt forward to iron the tail.

Next iron right cuff, the one to your left, inside and out; spray as needed. Smooth and iron this sleeve. Follow by ironing left cuff and sleeve. Move shirt as little as possible.

Holding shirt by right side seam, place entire right side on board, front smoothed over back, iron up seam and towards the middle. Pull shirt toward you to iron other side. Iron button hole strip carefully. Do wrong side of collar, turn and iron right side. If any wrinkles form, spray again and re-iron. While shirt is on board, insert coat hanger, shape collar and button top button. Pick up and there's the perfectly ironed shirt.

3rd Successful Launching

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The third straight successful launching of an early Wing 2 model of the Minuteman missile has opened the way for the first test firing of what the Air Force terms the "all-up" Wing 2 missile.

The early model propelled an instrumented nose cone more than 4,000 miles Thursday night after darting out of an underground launching pit. The intercontinental range missile tested many components designed for the all-up Wing 2, which is being developed for greater range, payload and accuracy than the operational Wing 1 Minuteman.

District Split

NORTH LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Pulaski County Board of Education ordered Tuesday the transfer of four areas from the Pulaski County (rural) School District to the North Little Rock District. The change, effective Monday, will add 700 students to the North Little Rock District.

Youth Hit, Killed by Automobile

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP)—Ernest Dewayne Throw, 2, of Pine Bluff, was killed Wednesday when struck by a car while crossing a street.

Police quoted witnesses as saying the boy and a companion darted into the street. The other child was not hurt.

Police said Claude Moyer Jr., 24, a Negro of Pine Bluff, drove his car around another car parked in the middle of a street just as the two children darted in front of the cars. Moyer's car struck the Throw child, officers said.

Reds Beaten Back in Viet Nam

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—Neutralist troops beat back a pro-Communist Pathet Lao infantry attack Wednesday night against neutralist forward positions north of the Plaine des Jarres airfield.

Parkin Principal Changes Jobs

PARAGOULD, Ark. (AP)—New-ton Norris, high school principal at Parkin for 20 years, has been hired as principal of Greene County Tech near Paragould.

The Tech school board also announced that Tommy Underwood, junior high coach at Tech for the past six years, had been elevated to senior high basketball coach, and that Jimmy Bowlin, coach last year at Egypt in Craighead County, would become junior high basketball coach and senior high baseball coach.

Norris replaces Dwight William who moved to Blytheville.

Premier Souvanna Phouma's office announced today.

Heavy bombardment of neutralist positions preceded the attack, the announcement said. It gave no details as to casualties or damages.

Wahlquist Named Parks Commission

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus announced today the appointment of Clyde O. Wahlquist of Prescott, a former Nevada County state representative, as an associate director of the Publicity and Parks Commission.

Wahlquist is publisher of the Nevada County Picayune. He served in the 1959 and 1961 legislatures.

Faubus also announced the appointment of L. C. Young, former sheriff of Pulaski County, as enforcement officer for the Commerce Commission.

Ritchie Plans to Retire Soon

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—R. E. Ritchie, board chairman of Arkansas Power & Light Co., said today he would retire on July 1. The 78-year-old AP&L executive will continue to serve as a member of the board and a member

Students Plan Trip to Prague

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Fifty North American university students will fly to Havana from Prague, Czechoslovakia, despite the State Department's threat to jail them on their return to the United States, the Cuban radio said today.

The Havana broadcast said the students encountered great difficulties arising from the U.S. government's refusal to let them visit Cuba.

The students have left for Europe, from where they will fly to Cuba shortly, the radio said.

of its executive committee. Reeves Ritchie, president of AP&L, will take over chairmanship of the board.

On Oct. 7, R. E. Ritchie would have completed 40 years of active work with AP&L. He has been on the board since 1932 and was AP&L president from 1952 to 1960. He has been board chairman since 1956.

Theater Blast Fatal to One

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—One person was killed and 53 others—mostly children—were injured in a downtown Saigon movie theater today when a grenade exploded, apparently by accident.

Killed in the blast was a government civil guard, who was carrying the grenade. It was believed to have slipped from his belt. Only a small audience was in the theater.

3rd in Contest

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP)—Linda Aldridge of Magnolia has won third place in the high school essay contest conducted by Civitan International on the topic "Citizenship as a World Challenge." The award was announced Wednesday during the group's convention.

The Indians called the steamboats "houses that could swim on water."

Life Insurance Policies at Record

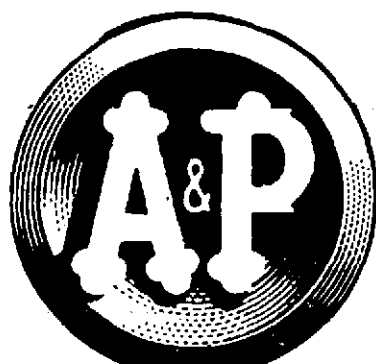

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Arkansas families owned a record 1,621,000 life insurance policies providing $3.6 billion of protection at the start of this year, the Institute of Life Insurance reported today.

This compares with $3.3 billion owned in the state the year before and $1.3 billion at the start of 1953. The 10-year rise in the state was 172 per cent.

Of the total policies owned Jan. 1 in Arkansas, $2,236,000 was in 520,000 ordinary life policies. Another $810 million was in group life insurance.

Senators Split

WASHINGTON (AP)—Arkansas' two senators split their vote on the $455 million depressed areas bill passed by the Senate in a 65-30 roll call vote Wednesday. Sen. J. William Fulbright voted for the bill and Sen. John L. McClellan against it.

SHORTY A 2-Minute Short Story

THE MORNING STAR
By RUSSELL KAZMAREK

Horns were blowing. Some people shouted that Gabriel was announcing doomsday. Calls flooded the switchboard of civil defense headquarters.

Albert Hansen heard the horns while returning home from work in his car. At worst, he thought, it was an air raid warning. At least it was a fire alarm. He opened his car window and stuck out his head.

Cars stopped all around him, but he could see no planes, no fire, no cause for alarm.

It was too loud to be a stuck automobile horn. It seemed to rattle houses and vibrate his car. He stuck his fingers into his ears, but he still could hear the sound. He closed the window of his car, but the blaring noise kept on. He couldn't even drown it out with the car radio.

It was a long blast, like an impatient motorist trying to hurry up a car ahead of him. Traffic snarled as men and women got out of their cars. Panic started. Everybody ran and there seemed no agreement on direction.

Albert didn't like the idea of walking anywhere, especially since he was a mile from home but the noise had snarled up traffic so badly that he didn't have much choice.

He climbed out of his machine and scaled the embankment at the side of the expressway. In the streets children were screaming, dogs were barking, and cats were sitting on fences with their mouths open.

Albert wasted no time getting to his house. His wife Rosemarie threw her arms around him and screamed something that Albert could not hear because of the noise outside.

He got a notebook and pad from the phone table and gave it to her.

"Albert," she wrote, "do you think it's the end of the world?" Albert shook his head, and then began to doubt his judgment as fine china began to crack, wine glasses shattered in the china closet. The noise seemed to reach its peak and then stopped.

Albert turned on the television set and a picture flicked on—the end of a silent movie. The television people were practical.

Then the picture faded and a voice said: "We interrupt this program for a news bulletin. A ship from outer space has entered the earth's atmosphere and will land in the vicinity of our city. Please notify civil defense or the police department if you sight the ship or its occupants."

Albert laughed, and was startled by the sound of his own voice.

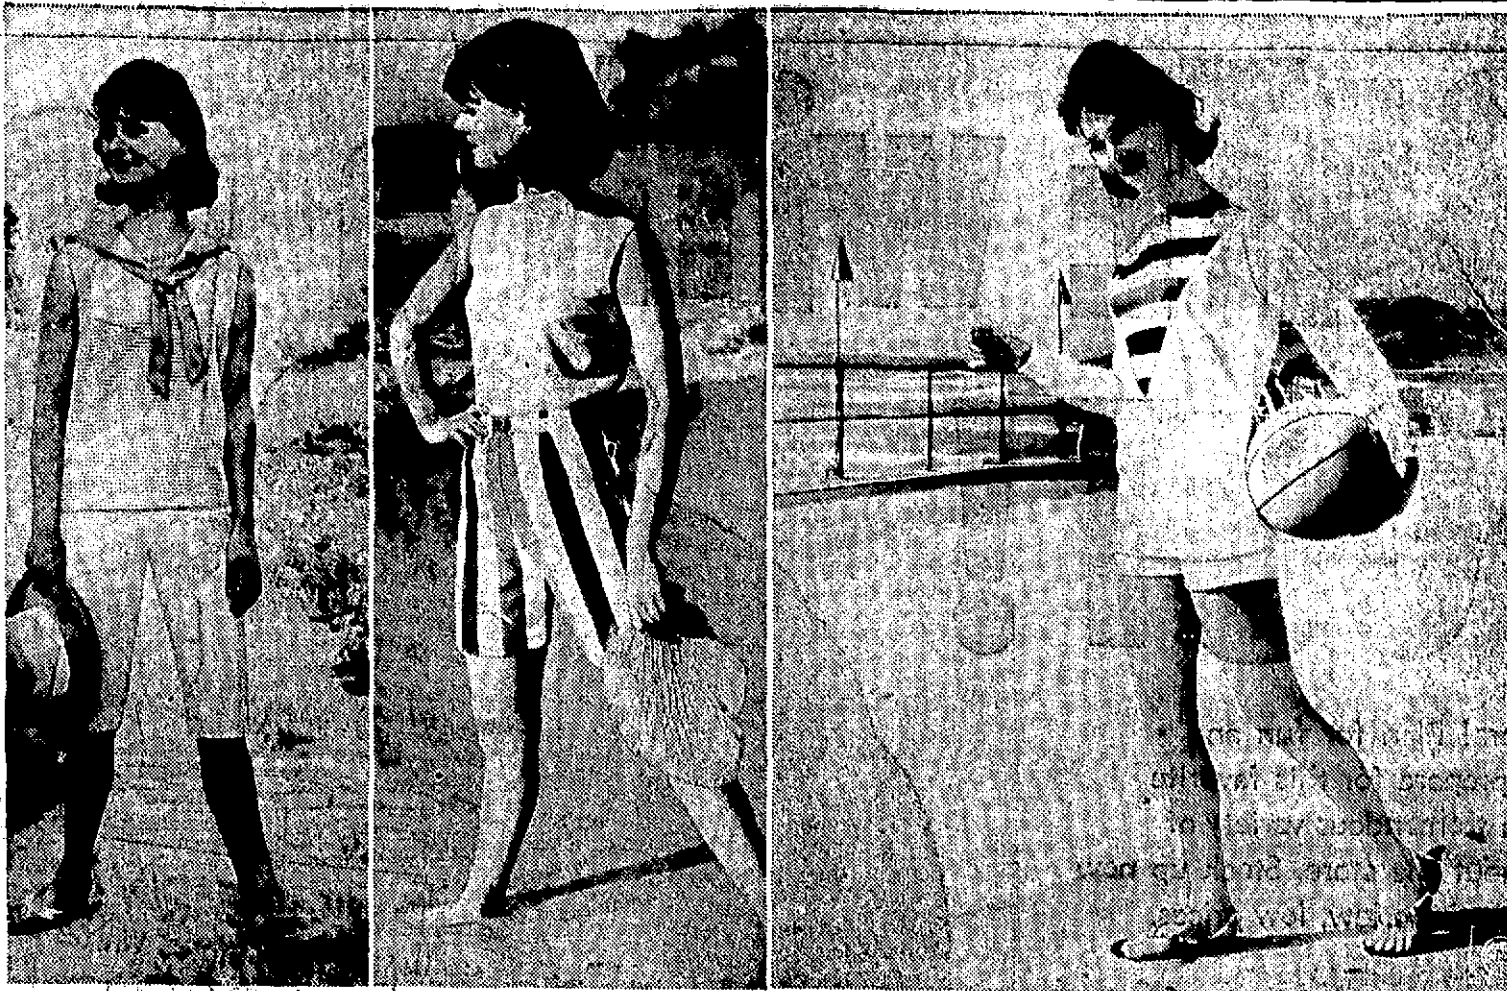

He ran to Rosemarie, his wife and found her standing near the bedroom window. "Something's in the front yard!" she whispered.

Albert looked out the window. It was not only in the yard, but most of the street as well. It wasn't a Flying Saucer, but it looked like a teapot. A Flying Teapot.

Albert went to the door and watched a strange looking creature climb out. He had a rectangular nose and very small ears, and carried an apparatus that looked like a megaphone. He raised this to his thick, bulbous lips and spoke:

"Greetings, earthlings. I am Lona from a far away planet. I must use this device to speak, because my normal voice would deafen you."

Albert listened, not sure he believed what he heard or what he

First Polio Case of Year in State

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Arkansas' first polio case of the year—a 12-month-old Bradley County boy—was recorded by the state Health Department today.

Dr. William L. Bunch Jr., director of the Division of Communicable Disease Control, said the child was hospitalized June 12 at the University Medical Center in Little Rock.

Only one case of polio had been reported by this date last year. The total for the year was 26 cases.

There were only two post offices in the early Territory and mail was received only once every month.

"I am friendly and will not hurt you," Lona continued. "Our people want to help you. You realize this, of course, from our first gesture of friendship."

He paused and grinned from ear to ear.

"When I approached your plane, I sounded my horn to let you know I was coming and not be thrown into a panic."

Plans State Address

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—William R. Russell of New York, director of the National Foundation March of Dimes chapters, will address representatives of the foundation's march effort from Arkansas, Missouri and Louisiana at a Little Rock meeting Thursday.

Plan Would Change Race Imbalance

PLAINFIELD, N.J. (AP)—The Plainfield Board of Education adopted a plan Thursday night to change racial imbalance in one of its elementary schools. The board acted less than 12 hours after the state education commissioner ordered that the imbalance be ended.

Commissioner Frederick M. Raubinger issued his ruling Thursday morning in Trenton. He ordered Plainfield to reduce racial imbalance at the 96 per cent Negro Washington School.

At a regularly scheduled meeting, the board unanimously approved a plan under which all sixth graders of Plainfield's 11 regular elementary schools will attend Washington School beginning in September.

Washington School pupils from kindergarten through the fifth grade will be transferred to other schools where enrollments are less than 50 per cent Negro.

The board's action was not acceptable, however, to the parents of 54 Negro children who had initiated the complaint of imbalance with the State Department of Education.

Herbert H. Tate, an attorney representing the parents, said he had been instructed to carry the suit further.

Raubinger's on May 15 gave the Orange School Board until July 1 to submit a plan to reduce

State Pays Part of Court Costs

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The state Education Department mailed checks today to the Little Rock and Dollarway school districts to pay the state's share of the cost of desegregation litigation in the districts.

The Little Rock District will receive $4,604 and the Dollarway District $2,270. This is half the amount that the districts reported they spent on desegregation lawsuits during the last fiscal year.

Act 265 of 1961 requires the Education Department to pay half the cost of such suits. Little Rock and Dollarway are the only two districts which have ever applied for the aid.

Body Recovered From River

POCAHONTAS, Ark. (AP)—The body of Leslie Sisson, about 43, of Pocahontas, who drowned Wednesday, was recovered this morning from the Black River near Noland, just south of Pocahontas.

Authorities said Sisson drowned when his boat overturned, throwing him, his 10-year-old son and Logan Hightower, a companion, into the river. Hightower and the boy swam to shore.

The three had been running a trotline.

the Oakwood School imbalance. Still to be decided by Raubinger are petitions from Englewood, Bridgeton and Montclair.

"And one more thing—don't send my shirts to that Chinese laundry any more."
